

The Maker's Oath

We are the stitchers, the menders, the remakers.

We rebel not with discard, but with creation.

We unmake the unwanted, reclaim the discarded, and restitch the forgotten.

We honor fiber, fabric, and the quiet magic of a well-made garment.

We choose repair over replace.

Resourcefulness over rush.

Skill over trend.

Purpose over excess.

We make wardrobes, not wardrobes of rules.

We stitch clothing that fits our bodies, our lives, our seasons, and our stories.

We build slowly. We thread thoughtfully. We wear bravely.

Our seams hold more than cloth —

They hold patience, protest, creativity, and care.

This is our making. Our mending. Our movement.

This is the Slow Stitch Rebellion.
